If we in the judiciary do not have the authority, and indeed the responsibility, to right fundamental wrongs...our whole intricate, constitutional system of checks and balances, as well as the oaths to which we swore, prove to be nothing but shams.

The position of judge belongs to the people.

Whenever you say something about a judge's nationality,...it demeans the office and hurts the judiciary as a whole.

Partisan politics has no role in courts of law.

The Founding Fathers...fashioned a framework for differences to be reconciled and progress to be made...in the push and pull of competing interests....The heroes are those who make the system work.
