

Be it resolved:

To serve the best interests of student learning and student success as well as to promote faculty/student academic communications, the faculty senate strongly urges that student access to D2L course shells begin ten days preceding the first day of class meeting for a semester and close ten days after the graduation ceremony for that semester.

Note:

- This changes the D2L default at MTSU; if a person wishes his/her classes to be accessed differently the faculty member can either request a different date by contacting IT, can place old materials in a draft module where they won't be seen, set the item status to "draft" instead of published, and/or place a notice on home page in News section.
