As you approach this important point in your life, make the smart choice to become part of a robust, vibrant community that has academic quality and student-centered learning at its core. It’s only natural that Tennessee’s Best are choosing MTSU.

The Princeton Review designated MTSU as one of the “Best Southeastern Colleges” based on a student survey that included positive feedback on faculty, describing them as “extremely knowledgeable and very willing to meet with students outside of class.”
Murfreesboro welcomes you!

Nestled in the heart of one of the fastest-growing counties in the nation, Murfreesboro is a historic community where old Southern charm mingles with new technology and culture. There are parks and greenways, historic sites, theaters, and lakes and rivers—all offering entertainment, recreation, and leisure opportunities. If shopping is one of the necessities of your life, you’ll love what you find in Murfreesboro: large department stores, small boutiques, specialty shops, traditional and innovative malls, discount stores, a restored town square, and unique creations of artists and craftspeople. “There is so much to do!”
Keeping up with changing technologies is a challenge. The College of Liberal Arts

With its broad spectrum of programs, the College of Liberal Arts enhances the cultural, intellectual, and social life of MTSU, the local community, and middle Tennessee. The University College

The University College provides academic advising and support, transfer services, academic outreach, and workforce training and evaluation. This college extends the University’s services to all students, adults wishing to return for academic credit course work, professionals wanting to update their skills, and groups planning conferences. Also, the University College coordinates summer and evening schools.

The University Honors College

The University Honors College offers personalized teaching, enrichment, interaction, smaller classes, and a competitive edge in a less structured learning environment. The college is housed in its own facility, the Paul W. Martin Sr. Honors Building.

The University College has initiated dual enrollment and dual credit programs for high school students.

Recording Industry students work with current software and hardware in studios and acoustical spaces designed by industry professionals.

Getting hands-on experience as you learn makes classes unique and can give you the edge after graduation. Many MTSU courses are set in the working world or in realistic simulation labs. Participating departments encourage you to sign up for internships in your junior or senior year, and a significant number teach through experiential learning (EXL), often involving partnership projects in the community ranging from painting murals at the Country Music Hall of Fame or the Rutherford County Heritage Center to working with America Reads.

The University Honors College students are chosen to become Buchanan Fellows, the University’s most prestigious academic award.

Each year 20 Honors College students are chosen to become Buchanan Fellows, the University’s most prestigious academic award.
Your life on campus

Possibilities for involvement abound on campus. Almost 300 organizations are active at MTSU, including fraternities and sororities, honor and professional societies, clubs, political groups, religious groups, interest groups, and intramural sports teams. Join theatre, the Band of Blue, or the award-winning horse judging team. Involvement in one or several of these organizations will enhance your MTSU experience, increase your likelihood for success, and make MTSU home.

The MTSU student body is diverse. Enrollment averages more than 25,000 students: approximately 90 percent are undergraduate, 53 percent are female, 47 percent are male, and 22 percent are minority. Twenty-four percent attend part-time. Fifty-two percent of our students take evening classes. MTSU students come from 94 Tennessee counties, 46 states, and more than 60 countries.

Exceptional student services are essential, not a luxury. At MTSU these include career guidance; counseling; tutoring; health services; social, recreational, and fitness activities; and more. The Career Development Center guides that important job search, Disabled Student Services helps with special needs, and the Honors College challenges superior students.
The Department of Public Safety protects the MTSU community. Twenty-four-hour service includes police patrols and an emergency dispatch. Services especially for students include building security, campus escorts, and general assistance (for example, when your car battery dies or you lock your keys in the car).

Student Health Services, with its staff of three doctors, four nurse practitioners, two physician assistants, and eight registered nurses, treats students on an outpatient basis for minor illnesses and injuries. MTSU Campus Pharmacy is conveniently located in the same facility to serve the University community—even providing drive-thru service. Middle Tennessee Medical Center provides emergency services, and Murfreesboro has several walk-in clinics affiliated with major medical groups.

Two dining halls, several fast food outlets, the Grill, and the CyberCafe are conveniently located and ready to serve you. The campus minimart in Keathley University Center (across from the movie theater) sells soft drinks and snacks. Phillips Bookstore, also in Keathley, stocks textbooks, supplies, MTSU apparel, computers and software, and other items. It also offers a convenient check cashing service. ATMs are on the same floor near the U.S. Post Office.
The Student Government Association affects everyone on campus through its decisions and is the perfect place for you to make a difference. Aspiring journalists can write for Sidelines, our student newspaper. Two radio stations and a community cable TV channel are training grounds for anyone interested in those areas. Student Programming committees let everyone get involved in bringing top-notch, thought-provoking entertainment to campus. Blue Raider and intramural athletics, in addition to the Recreation Center, are great ways to let off steam as spectators or participants. MTSU’s competitive academic teams— Debate and Mock Trial— perform well in competition against more prominent universities and often place ahead of schools such as Auburn, Vanderbilt, Duke, Florida, and Alabama. Another avenue open to students is studying abroad, including exchange, travel, study, and work programs. Five exchange agreements in Asia and one in Europe have almost doubled the opportunities for students to gain international experience. An extensive study abroad and student exchange program is coordinated by the MT Abroad Office. Counseling Services, an Intercultural and Diversity Affairs office, academic advisors in each undergraduate college, and the Academic Support Center for undecided majors complement MTSU’s behind-the-scenes academic support.

“The possibilities for involvement are limitless.”
We believe MTSU is the place for you, but the only way you’ll truly know is to see for yourself. Come visit us and speak with a student tour guide to get a candid perspective about student life and then sit down with an admissions counselor to discuss the unlimited possibilities for your future.

Guided tours are hosted by the Admissions Office and begin in the lobby of the CyberCafe Monday through Friday at 10:00 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. during the academic year. These are walking tours and generally last about an hour and a half. Please make a reservation for your tour by visiting the Admissions Web page at www.mtsu.edu/admissn or by calling (615) 898-5670 or 1-800-331-MTSU.

Visitors wishing to meet with departmental advisors or with someone from the admissions staff are strongly encouraged to make arrangements prior to arriving on campus. Also, if you are disabled and need special assistance, please inform us so that we may prepare for your visit.

We also offer self-guided and podcast tours. Tour packets can be picked up in the Information Booth located in the Cope Administration Building lobby, Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. If you are a transfer student, call for the date and time of our monthly transfer-focused tour. Download the podcast to your MP3 player from www.mtsu.edu/admissn/tour_admissn.shtml. An accompanying map is available on this site.

The Housing and Residential Life Office has daily tours at 12:15 and 3:15 p.m. Walking tour visitors will be finished in time for this tour. For more information about the Housing tour, contact (615) 898-2971 or visit the Housing and Residential Life Web page at www.mtsu.edu/housing/faq.shtml.

Once admission has been granted, all new freshmen are encouraged to register for and attend the two-day CUSTOMS orientation program. CUSTOMS provides important information, advising, and registration services for new students and their families. Several sessions are available throughout the summer to accommodate various schedules. CUSTOMS registration information will be mailed directly to the student’s permanent address.

All new transfer students are required to complete an online orientation and see an academic advisor before selecting classes. The Admissions Office will e-mail registration and advising information upon acceptance. The MTSU Web site can help transfer students plan their courses of study. Check out the Transfer Equivalencies at Middle (TEAM) pages at www.mtsu.edu/admissn/trans_admissn.shtml.
To make the most of your college education, you have to experience college life. That means more than reading books and taking tests. At MTSU, we offer many opportunities for you to live in a community of students and faculty who share your common interests. Whether they are avenues of study, an organization you join, or an inclination toward computers, campus housing can meet your needs. Living on campus means living at the heart of it all! You are always a short walk from classes, many activities, and athletic events.

From traditional residence halls to on-campus apartment living, MTSU offers several residential opportunities. All facilities are air conditioned and have telephone service, laundry facilities, community rooms, and Internet access. Visit www.mtsu.edu/housing for more information.
Go Blue Raiders!

Athletics can be a big part of college life. MTSU’s Blue Raiders are proud members of the Sun Belt Conference and the National Collegiate Athletic Association. Murphy Athletic Center is the home of exciting Blue Raider basketball. The Reese Smith Baseball Complex, enlarged and improved with a $5 million facelift, is one of the top facilities in the region. The Dean A. Hayes Track and Field Stadium is home to the renowned track team. The football stadium seats 30,000 fans. The MTSU coaching staff trains athletes to be competitive on and off the field. Academic advisors help student athletes keep it all in perspective. Pregame events such as concerts and pep rallies involve the entire campus community.

There are plenty of reasons to cheer the Blue Raiders. Our football team became the first Sun Belt team to post a 10-win season and beat Southern Miss 42-32 in the New Orleans Bowl. The women’s volleyball team made its second appearance in the NCAA tournament after winning the Sun Belt tournament for the second year in a row. The women’s basketball team went to the NCAA tournament for the 13th time in program history, led by the nation’s leading scorer for the second year in a row, All-American senior Alysha Clark.

Whether you want to get involved in intramural or club sports or just need a good place to work out, you will find it right on campus at the Health, Wellness, and Recreation Center. The Rec Center is a state-of-the-art facility with indoor and outdoor pools, racquetball courts, basketball and volleyball courts, indoor and outdoor climbing, aerobics, a computerized cardiovascular room, weight room, indoor track, roller hockey, a sun deck, lighted sand volleyball courts, softball/flag football fields, and a soccer/rugby field.
