COMMON QUESTIONS

1) How do I register?
   Call 615-494-7628

2) What is the cost of a course?
   Each course will cost $20, and there will be four classes per course meeting Mondays in May.

3) Where will classes be held?
   Sam Ingram Building, MT Center (Middle Tennessee Boulevard)

4) Where should I park?
   In the lot at the front of the Ingram Building

5) Will there be tests, homework, quizzes?
   Absolutely not

1) Reflections on Vietnam
   Dr. Derek W. Frisby

2) Jazz Transition in the ‘60s
   Dr. Don Aliquo

3) Eastern Philosophy
   Dr. Jack Purcell
INSTRUCTOR BIOGRAPHIES

9:00–10:30 a.m.,
Reflections on Vietnam—Dr. Derek W. Frisby
Dr. Derek W. Frisby—Frisby is an MTSU alum and USMC veteran teaching military and Tennessee history and geography. As part of his research on warfare and culture, he leads students, veterans, and active-duty military personnel on “staff rides” and tours of battlefields in the U.S. and abroad. He has led “Band of Brothers” tours in Western Europe and tours to Iwo Jima, Guam, Peleliu, Sicily/Italy, and Vietnam. He received the 2009 MTSU Outstanding Teaching Award and the 2015 MTSU Alumni True Blue Citation of Distinction Award for Teaching.

10:45 a.m.–12:15 p.m.,
Jazz Transition in the ’60s—Dr. Don Aliquo
Dr. Don Aliquo—Aliquo is a saxophonist and professor of Saxophone and Jazz Studies at MTSU. An active performer and recording artist, Aliquo has released six solo recordings and has appeared on many others. His latest CD, entitled New Ties and Binds, features veteran jazz masters Rufus Reid on bass, Harold Danko on piano, trumpeter Clay Jenkins, and drummer Jim White. Aliquo’s career began in Pittsburgh, where he grew up listening to and learning from the city’s jazz legends while following in the footsteps of his father, a well-respected jazz artist. As a performer, Aliquo has been described as a “fluid and articulate player with a flow of always surprising ideas complete with a dexterous technique and an incredibly smooth tenor sound.”

12:30–1:45 p.m.,
Eastern Philosophy—Dr. Jack Purcell
Dr. Jack Purcell—Purcell was raised in the traditions of India. His teacher while growing up was an Indian yogi who was taught by Yogananda, one of the principal importers of yogic traditions into the United States. Purcell has been a long-time practitioner of yoga and meditation, teaching both Asian and “Western” philosophy. He has B.A. and M.A. degrees from the University of South Carolina and an M.A. and his Ph.D. from Purdue University. Purcell teaches classes in Asian Thought, Recent Continental Philosophy, Ancient Greek Philosophy, and Philosophy and Cinema.

CLASS INFORMATION
The Lifelong Learning program will take place on Mondays in May 2017. The cost is only $20 per course; come join us!

CONTACT INFORMATION
If you are interested in this new opportunity, contact Connie Huddleston at 615-494-7628 or connie.huddleston@mtsu.edu.

REGISTRATION

Name

Address

Email

Phone

Check made out to MTSU Lifelong Learning
Fee Enclosed $__________

$20 Jazz Transition in the ’60s $20 Reflections on Vietnam

$20 Eastern Philosophy

Deadline to register is March 31, 2017.

Please mail to:
Connie Huddleston
MTSU Box 97
Murfreesboro, TN 37132