2018 LGBT+ College Conference Feedback

Please list conference strengths...

Very relaxed atmosphere, everyone who wanted to speak was heard in a respectful manner

Extremely diverse, and fully informative and accurate info

This was a very strong scholarly conference. I enjoyed the research presentations on day one. The panelists from the various industries were also incredibly meaningful. For this being a free conference, aside from travel and lodging, I was highly impressed with the execution

The conference is very educational and offers an expansion of learning to students I found out. I think it is great to reach out beyond the LGBTQ+ community

Please list some things you learned at the conference...

OMG I learned a lot about the Intersex Community, I also learned the history of the name change process and laws forbidding trans or gender non-conforming folks from accessing those resources who live in different counties throughout the state of TN.

EVERYTHING during the intersex discussion. Also, the information about trans folks and documents in TN as well as hunger and food security for students was helpful and eye opening.

I learned some AMAZING career building tips and negotiating tactics. I also learned some amazing ways to include the LGBT+ community in my organization.

That there is an increasing awareness of the need for minority groups to work together and support each other's causes, resume tips, legislative information

Is there anything else you want to add?

Coming down from Tiffin U in Ohio, I was worried about how the conference would have paid off, but I am incredibly pleased with what my students, colleague, and I were able to take from the experience. I will definitely recommend that folks continue to attend from up north.

Yes, I like the inclusion of the corporate with student. I think helps connect us to the companies we are going to.

It was my pleasure being a part of something so powerful. I spoke with a few students in regards to the conference and the atmosphere on campus prior to me speaking which inclined me to speak more openly about my experiences working with the community. If you ever need me again in the future, I'm readily available.
