PROMOTION TO PROFESSOR RECOMMENDATION FORM

NAME _____ DEPARTMENT _____

Minimum Criteria	Met	Not Met
1. Except as noted below, the rank of professor requires that a person shall hold an earned doctorate from an accredited college or university in a major appropriate to the teaching field. If the chairperson, dean, and provost shall determine whether the degree is appropriate to the teaching field, a determination that is normally made at the time of a faculty member's initial appointment. [In certain special areas- -as determined by the provost- - in which professional achievement is of unusual importance, or in which personnel holding higher degrees are not available, the master's degree, when accompanied by extensive, distinguished professional experience and a record of distinguished accomplishment, may meet the minimum requirement for the rank of professor. The department chairperson, college dean, and provost are responsible for evaluating a candidate's professional experience and record of accomplishment. They also are responsible for determining whether the terminal degree is appropriate to the teaching field, if it is outside a candidate's discipline. These determinations shall normally be made at the time of a faculty member's initial appointment.] [When the earned doctorate is not normally available in a faculty member's teaching field, other degrees -- for example, the M.F.A. -- may substitute for the earned doctorate. It shall be the responsibility of the department chairperson, dean and provost to determine whether an earned doctorate is normally available in a faculty member's teaching field. This determination shall normally be made at the time of a faculty member's initial appointment.] 2.
