Department of Psychology

Dennis Papini, Chair
Jones Hall 103

The Psychology major is designed for students with a variety of career goals and interests and leads to a Bachelor of Science degree. The Pre-graduate School concentration is designed for students intending to apply for Ph.D. or master’s programs. A minor in Psychology is also available. In addition, the Department of Psychology offers a major and a minor in Industrial/Organizational Psychology. The Industrial/Organizational Psychology major leads to a Bachelor of Science degree. Additional specialized minors are offered in Mental Health Services, Life Span Development, Neuroscience, and Behavioral Research.

A student with more than one major and/or minor in the Department of Psychology cannot use the same coursework for more than one program. Some courses may be used in more than one program, but in no case can a single course be used to satisfy requirements in more than one program.

Consultation with the assigned advisor is recommended before each registration. Students may access the name of their advisor on the department Web site. Students who have ever taken a course at another university should consult a department transfer advisor.

Curricular listings include General Education requirements in Communication, History, Humanities and/or Fine Arts, Mathematics, Natural Sciences, and Social/Behavioral Sciences categories as outlined on pages 64–67.

Major in Psychology

A common set of core courses is required of all Psychology majors. The specific interests and career goals of each student determine the remainder of the program. The curriculum is arranged to provide familiarity with scientific bases of psychology for students preparing for careers in a variety of professions; the knowledge and skills necessary for graduate work in psychology; and the academic preparation and technical skills for students who plan to work in health-related, business and/or research settings after completing their undergraduate work.

The major in Psychology requires a minimum of 38 semester hours including a course in each of the nine following core areas (with a grade of C- or above), plus 12 additional hours of psychology electives (at least 9 hours upper division). To meet the Mathematics General Education requirement, Psychology majors must take MATH 1710 or 1730. Two minors are required. Students may choose a psychology minor offered by the department, but this is not required. At least one minor, however, must be from outside the department.

NOTE: Major in Psychology (Online) - Students who are interested in pursuing an online Psychology major should see the College of Continuing Education and Distance Learning Web site or office.

Minor in Psychology

The minor in Psychology requires 15 semester hours including PSY 1410, at least 3 hours at the lower division level, and at least 6 hours at the 3000 or 4000 level.

Concentration: Pre-graduate School

Students who apply for the Pre-graduate School concentration should be those who will be competitive applicants for Ph.D. or competitive master’s programs. GPA is an important consideration for admission to these programs. A subcommittee of the Undergraduate Studies Committee will screen students applying for the concentration, and students will be admitted to the program only upon approval of their application. A minimum GPA of 3.25 is required for application.

To graduate with this concentration, students must achieve an overall GPA of 3.25. It is recommended that students apply for admission to this concentration between the completion... of 45 and 60 hours. The Pre-graduate School concentration requires 41 semester hours of psychology and one minor from outside the Department of Psychology.
