

February 1, 2019

To the Attention of:

Middle Tennessee State University Aerospace Maintenance Students

The Tennessee Aviation Association (TAA) AND John T. Baugh, Jr. Aviation Excellence Scholarship are offering a scholarship for this year's Tennessee Airports Conference. To qualify for this scholarship the student must be currently enrolled in the Maintenance Management Program and have a GPA of 3.0 or higher.

The Tennessee Aviation Association is an organization representing airports and aviation business across the State of Tennessee. TAA works closely with the Tennessee Department of Transportation Aeronautics Division, the Tennessee State Legislature, the Federal Aviation Administration at the federal level, and produces the annual Tennessee Airports Conference and provides networking opportunities for aviation professionals across the United States.

The Tennessee Airports Conference is being held in Murfreesboro, Tennessee , March 18 – 20, 2019.

To qualify for the John T. Baugh, Jr. Scholarship, Maintenance students must submit an essay of no less that 1000 words that encompasses the following:

- How you became involved in aviation.
- Your personal career goals.
- How you plan to use the scholarship to further your education.
- What areas of aviation interest you and why.
- What issues / trends in aviation maintenance interest you and why.
- Topics in aviation that you feel will affect the industry over the next 15 - 20 years.

An Essay Cover Page must include Full Name and M#. Also must have email address and current contact phone number. Please submit your application (essay) and copy of transcript to Professor Jerry Hill no later than February 28, 2019 to qualify. The scholarships will be awarded at the Tennessee Airports Conference on March 20, 2019.

