The following is to provide general guidance on the determination of the position type. This is only provided as a framework. The three types of student engagement are:

- Student Worker
- Paid Internship
- Unpaid Internship

MTSU – Facilities Service Student Engagement Form

A paid internship is typically for a student who has graduated and is looking for qualified experience in the field of their choice.

An unpaid internship is typically for a student who is still enrolled in classes. Internships as a class require additional work from the intern's supervisor including but not limited to work logs, summary reporting added weekly, monthly and other requirements based on the class instructor.

A student work is paid a set hourly wage for work performed. Hours can vary based on need.
