43rd ANNUAL ELSIE QUARTERMAN

Cedar Glade Wildflower Festival
Cedars of Lebanon State Park
April 30 & May 1, 2021

PLEASE NOTE: All events are outside but to protect the health of all attendees, masks will be required when social distancing is not possible. Thank you for your mindfulness and protecting everyone’s health! There is not a food concession at the park but many options are available in Lebanon; plan accordingly or bring food/snacks if you want to hang around at the park all day.

FRIDAY, April 30
(Juniper Gazebo, 7 – 9 p.m.)
What’s all that buzz about? Bees, State Parks Honey Project, and other Invertebrates in the Cedar Glades – Dr. Steve Murphree, Professor, Belmont University
There’s More of Cedars of Lebanon to Enjoy: Learn About Cedar Forest Expansion & Future Plans – Jeff Buchanan, Park Manager
Friends of Cedars of Lebanon State Park Invitation – Friends’ Spokesperson

SATURDAY, MAY 1

Motorcade to cedar glade hiking spots, meet outside the Park Nature Center in the parking lot. Register inside Cedar Forest Lodge, limit 15 per leader, masks required.
Cedar Glade Hike #1 (9 a.m. – noon) Todd Crabtree, Milo Pyne, & Darel Hess
Cedar Glade Hike #2 (1 – 4 p.m.) Todd Crabtree, Milo Pyne, & Darel Hess

Meet outside the Park Nature Center for these events:
Bird Walk (7 – 8:30 a.m.) Melissa Turrentine
Landscaping with Native Plants (9 –10 a.m.) Linda Robertson
Family Geology Short Hike (10 – 11 a.m.) Ron Zurawski
Family Friendly Short Activities (10 – 2 p.m.) Park Staff, Melissa Turrentine, Kim Sadler
Edible Plants (11 a.m. – noon) Sharen Bracey (Wild Foods Booth open 10 – 3 p.m.)
Hoots in the Glades (1 – 2 p.m.) Julie Eperjesi, Owls Hill Sanctuary
Native Plants Garden, you can do this, too! (2 – 3 p.m.) Linda Robertson
Glade Geology Hike (3 – 5 p.m.) Ron Zurawski

Owl Prowl (7 – 8:30 p.m.) Park Ranger at Sadie Ford Farm

Park Information: (615) 444-4565 or (615) 443-2769
Ranger Sarah Geeslin: Sarah.Geeslin@tn.gov

MTSU Center for Cedar Glade Studies
www.mtsu.edu/glade-center
Email: kim.sadler@mtsu.edu
Save the date for 2022: April 29 & 30