Title: The Walter King Hoover Papers

Dates: Bulk 1930 - 1985

Creator: Walter King Hoover

Summary/Abstract: The Walter King Hoover Papers are the culmination of a lifetime of collecting documents, ephemera, memorabilia and newspaper clippings by a Smyrna businessman. These papers, although they primarily pertain to Smyrna history, also relate to regional history and include a series of documents pertaining to Nashville. All aspects of community life are documented in this extensive collection of papers, including local schools, businesses and churches; community events; local clubs and fraternities; local families’ genealogy; local physicians; and federal projects relating to both the Civilian Conservation Corps and other contemporary programs.

Quantity/Physical Description: 75 linear feet.

Arrangement: These papers are arranged into several series. They are Businesses, Churches, Clubs/Organizations, Communities, Federal Projects, Memorabilia, Military, People, Physicians, Sam Davis, Schools, Shows/Fairs, and Nashville. The series, with the exception of Nashville, are arranged chronologically within the collection. Some series are separated into subseries, depending on the content and size of the series. Within series and subseries, folders are arranged both alphabetically and chronologically, depending on the subject matter.
Biographical Note:
Born 26 January 1910 in Cleburne, Texas, Walter King Hoover was the second child of Edwin Francis and Bessie Lee King Hoover, both from Middle Tennessee. By 1913, the family had moved to Smyrna, Tennessee, where Hoover spent the rest of his life. He married Margaret Elizabeth Denny of Nashville in October 1937 at Scarritt College Chapel. They had three children, Walter Denny, Frances Jean, and Sue Margaret.

Hoover worked with the Civilian Conservation Corps for thirteen months before joining his uncle, Walter Harris King, in his Smyrna mortuary business in the mid-1930s. Walter King Hoover purchased the concern in 1942, renaming it Hoover Funeral Home. In 1968, Hoover published A History of the Town of Smyrna, Tennessee based on his memories and years of collecting historical materials on various aspects of the town's heritage. After donating much of his collection to the Albert Gore Research Center in 1996, Hoover published Volume II of Smyrna's history. Walter King Hoover died at the age of 92 on April 19, 2002.

Scope and Content:
Documents covering primarily the period from 1930 to 1985 and relating to the history of Smyrna, Tennessee comprise the majority of the 75 linear foot collection. The Walter King Hoover Papers also contain a number of books that could help a researcher with topics like the Civil War, slavery, and reconstruction. Many of these books are nineteenth century era textbooks.

Materials in the Smyrna collection include business ledgers, promotional items, timetables, advertising materials, telephone books, church publications, club minutes, tax records, municipal records, land deeds, maps, cemetery relocation records, family genealogical documents, Civil War histories and documents, political campaign literature, school sports record books, yearbooks, school newsletters, cheerleader uniforms, 19th Century textbooks, memorabilia from shows/fairs and political campaigns, World War I and II collectibles, newspaper clippings, and over 3400 photographs. The Nashville portion of the collection consists primarily of newspaper clippings, memorabilia, and photographs in series paralleling the Smyrna section.

The Business series consists of store ledgers, advertising materials, time books, maps, newspaper clippings, and daybooks. Included are papers from the transportation, communication, entertainment, service, manufacturing, retail, financial, and professional industry segments, including railroads, steamboats, and taxis; telephone companies, newspapers and radio stations; theater and racetracks, sawmills, blacksmith shops, grist mills, milk processors, auto repair, plumbers, dry cleaners, and restaurants; Nissan automobile and Singer plants; grocery, shoe, and clothing stores; and banks, insurance agencies, real estate agencies, funeral homes, attorneys, and physicians. (Additional information on owners of these businesses may be found in Clubs and Physicians series.)

Although the Churches series contains some membership books dating to the early 1900s, most of this series spans the 1950s through 1980s. In addition to membership lists, materials include bulletins, directories, newspaper clippings, lessons, finance reports, committee proceedings, missionary society records, programs, and various other papers. A few compiled histories of various churches in Smyrna and the surrounding area complete the series. Many denominations are represented including Church of Christ, Baptist, Presbyterian, Methodist, Nazarene, and Cumberland Presbyterian.

The Clubs/ Fraternities Series documents several local clubs, groups, and fraternal organizations with papers, publications, and histories. Groups represented include Boy Scouts, Business & Professional Women, 4-H Club, Girl Scouts, The Grange, Home Demonstration Club, Junior Order of American Mechanics, Chamber of Commerce, Ku Klux Klan, Lion’s Club, Masons, Order of Pale Face, Ruritan Club, Smyrna Golf Club, Sons of American Revolution, United Daughters of the Confederacy, and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The Communities series includes papers, maps, blueprints, newspaper clippings, tax records, voting records, municipal records (including fire, police, water, electric, etc.), cemetery information, compiled histories, obituaries, telephone books, and memorabilia. In addition to Smyrna, the towns of Fosterville, Lavergne, Jefferson, and Murfreesboro are represented.

The Federal Projects series contains newspaper clippings, maps, land deeds, cemetery relocation plans, and various publications about the development of Percy Priest Lake and Sewart Air Force Base. The extensive collection of deeds and property ownership, reservoir, and Cumberland River basin maps makes this series particularly valuable in documenting land now under water.

The Memorabilia series contains cardboard advertising fans, some dating back to 1920, depicting scenes ranging from Biblical to “Gibson Girl” to pastoral. It also contains items like reel-to-reel movies, magazines, prints, political campaign posters, and collectibles.

The Military series is made up of a bound copy of Smyrna author Adeline King’s letters to World War II soldiers, as well as newspaper clippings, government issued handbooks, and other ephemera.

The People series includes genealogical documents such as compilations, research notes, and letters. These materials provide a rich source of family history for several families, including Bell, Blackman, Childress, Edmondson, Hoover, King, Lee, Mason, and Tune. Some contain information regarding European roots as well as Revolutionary and Civil War ancestry. This series also includes 19th Century diaries, letters (some Civil War), newspaper clippings, death notices, political memorabilia, scrapbooks, and miscellaneous papers. Surnames include: Batey, Bell, Collier, Davis, Edmondson, Gooch, Hager, Hibbett, Hoover, Keeble, Page, Ridley, Sanders, and Smith.

The Physicians series incorporates the papers (some dating back to 1815) of various area doctors. These papers include diplomas, newspaper clippings, druggist’s alcohol records, compiled histories, and records of Smyrna Medical Society. Physicians include Bennett, Bracken, Davis, Burkitt, Charlton, Davis, Engles, Ewing, Gaines, Gracy, Gray, Lowry, Patterson, Reed, Sanders, Shipp, Sneed, Thomas, Waldron, and Warmuth.

The Publication Series contains magazines.

The Sam Davis series pertains to the “Boy Hero of the Confederacy,” whose home is preserved near Smyrna. This series contains newspaper clippings, plays, songs, poems, radio and video scripts, and correspondence and records of the Sam Davis Home and Memorial Association.

While the Schools series includes information and photographs of many area schools, the evolution of Smyrna High School from the early 1900s to the mid-1970s is especially well documented. Items of interest include photographs, graduation invitations, school newspapers, yearbooks, cheerleader uniforms, sports record books, and play programs. Among the schools represented are Thurman Francis Junior High, Kittrell High, Central High, Tennessee College for Women, State Teachers College, and Nashville College for Young Ladies. Late 19th Century to early 20th Century schools included are Lone Oak, Jefferson, Cedar Grove, Rock Dale, Rock Spring, Rocky Fork, Seminary, Sneed/Sanders, and Smyrna Fitting School.

The Shows/Fairs series includes advertisements, newspaper clippings, programs, and other publications about horse shows, circuses, fairs and Tennessee Aviation Days.

The Nashville series of the collection has many of the same divisions as the rest of the papers – churches, clubs/fraternities, and schools – and contains publications, letters, and newspaper clippings relating to the architectural, agricultural, municipal, music, business, and political history of Nashville.

Associated Materials: The Walter King Hoover Collection contains over 3400 photographs, all of which are stored separately in the Albert Gore Research Center photograph holdings. The photos span areas such as local businesses, grist mills, local high schools, and women's clubs. Smyrna's development from a rural community to a small town and eventually a bustling suburb can be seen in the photograph collection. The photographs also document many of the people who settled in Smyrna over the past 150 years. Like the rest of the Hoover collection, the photographs not only relate to Smyrna, but also many areas of Middle Tennessee. This part of the Walter King Hoover Collection can be searched through a photographic database.

Maps and blueprints are separately catalogued and textbooks, other books, and equestrian items are inventoried apart from the general container listing.

Large items from various series are stored in appropriate boxes in the oversize section, separate from the Walter King Hoover Papers.

Related Collections: The Margaret Denny Hoover Papers are related as Walter King and Margaret Denny Hoover were married. These papers primarily document Hoover family history and genealogy.
