The Star-Spangled Banner

Lyrics by Francis Scott Key

Music by John Stafford Smith

O say, can you see by the dawn's ear-ly light what so proud - ly we hailed at the twi-light's last gleam - ing? Whose broad stripes and bright stars thro' the per - il - ous fight o'er the ram - parts we watched were so gal - lant - ly stream-ing? And the rock - ets' red glare, the bombs burst-ing in air, gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there. O say, does that star - spang - l'd ban - ner yet wave o'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

Friday Address

The Honorable Dawn White

Tennessee State Senator, District 13

Chair, Senate Education Committee

Growing up in Eagleville, Dawn White attended Rutherford County Schools and is a proud graduate of Middle Tennessee State University, where she earned three degrees: a Bachelor of Science in Early Childhood Education, a Master of Education in Curriculum and Instruction, and an Education Specialist in Administration and Supervision.

For seven years, White worked as a teacher in the Murfreesboro City Schools system at Black Fox Elementary. There, she experienced firsthand the issues facing Tennessee's educators and recognized the need to improve the standing of Tennessee students among their peers across the country.

White's love of community service led her to become involved with organizations whose work addresses some of the community's greatest needs. She has spent years volunteering with organizations across Rutherford County, including CASA of Rutherford County, Saint Thomas Rutherford Ambassadors, Rutherford CABLE, Smyrna Rotary Club, Smyrna Lions Club, and the Junior League of Murfreesboro.

In 2005, she felt the call of entrepreneurship. She became an owner of an internet retail business focused on vacuum cleaners and related parts and supplies. She eventually expanded by launching a separate ecommerce site focused on sewing machines and accessories. Through hard work, White tripled the size of her business and provided both full-time and part-time jobs for numerous people in Rutherford County. Her office and warehouse space were located in Smyrna until the business was sold in 2015.

White and her husband, Chad, whom she met while attending MTSU, live in Murfreesboro and are active members of LifePoint Church in Smyrna. She served three terms as the state representative for District 37 and is currently serving her second term as state senator for the 13th District, which covers much of Rutherford County, including Eagleville, Rockvale, Almaville, Blackman, Leanna, and portions of Murfreesboro, Smyrna, Walter Hill, and Christiana. She currently serves as chairman of the Senate Education Committee and as a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Saturday Morning Address

The Honorable Stuart C. McWhorter

Deputy Governor and Commissioner of the Tennessee Department of Economic and Community Development

Stuart C. McWhorter serves as the deputy governor and commissioner of the Tennessee Department of Economic and Community Development (TNECD). In this role he is a top advisor to Gov. Bill Lee and manages the day-to-day operations of TNECD. He spearheads the department's efforts in recruiting new businesses to the state, supporting existing companies in their expansions, assisting in creating greater opportunity across rural Tennessee, and helping the state's small business and entrepreneurial ecosystem grow, which, in turn, boosts Tennessee's overall economic prosperity.

He was appointed deputy governor in October 2025 and has served as TNECD commissioner since July 2022. During his tenure, TNECD has landed nearly 300 projects, which represent more than 39,600 job commitments and $31.3 billion in capital investment. Of those projects, more than 32% were the result of foreign direct investment.

McWhorter has a diverse background in entrepreneurship, corporate finance, and strategic planning. He served as co-founder and chairman of Clayton Associates with over 25 years of experience in entrepreneurship and early-stage investing.

He stepped away from Clayton Associates in 2019 to join Lee's administration as commissioner of the Department of Finance and Administration. He led the drafting of two fiscal year state budgets, co-chaired the governor's Health Care Modernization Task Force, and was appointed director of the Tennessee Unified Command Group to coordinate the state's response to the COVID-19 pandemic. In addition, McWhorter previously served as the CEO of the Nashville Entrepreneur Center and chairman of the board of directors of Nashville-based FirstBank Financial Corporation.

He received his Master of Health Administration from the University of Alabama–Birmingham and Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from Clemson University.

McWhorter resides in Nashville with his wife, Leigh Anne, and their children.

Saturday Afternoon Address

Mr. Scott Borchetta

Founder, President, and CEO of Big Machine Records

Scott Borchetta is the founder, chairman, and CEO of Big Machine Records, home to superstars including Rascal Flatts, Riley Green, The Band Perry, Lady A, and emerging artists Jack Wharff Band, Mackenzie Carpenter, Cole Goodwin, Marfa, Greylan, and more.

With Borchetta at the helm, Big Machine has celebrated monumental success for more than 20 years, including multiple Grammy Awards, American Music Awards, Country Music Association Awards, Academy of Country Music Awards, and Billboard Music Awards. He has led the charge on more than 226 million albums sold by Big Machine artists in addition to sending more than 265 singles to No. 1 on the country, pop and rock charts.

As an executive producer, he has delivered incredible works of art including the impressive 20-track Petty Country, a tribute album of country artists singing Tom Petty songs, and the documentary Glen Campbell . . . I'll Be Me, which won a Grammy for its soundtrack.

Borchetta has been profiled by Forbes and tapped for Billboard's Power 100 list and Fast Company's 100 Most Creative People in Business. His honors include the Music Business Association's prestigious Presidential Award for Outstanding Executive Achievement, the Country Radio Broadcasters Presidential Award, the Bob Kingsley Living Legend Award, and the CMA Irving Waugh Award of Excellence. Among many industry-changing achievements, in 2012, Borchetta made an unprecedented agreement with iHeartRadio, marking the first time in U.S. history that artists and labels would get paid for their recordings on traditional, over-the-air radio with the first-ever terrestrial radio performance right.

An avid philanthropist, Borchetta and wife Sandi have partnered with Monroe Carell Jr. Children's Hospital at Vanderbilt, contributing especially to the expansion of its neonatal intensive care unit. The Borchettas also created the Music Has Value fund in support of music in schools and music therapy. Additional charitable initiatives include a multiyear, multiartist campaign that found Big Machine and Borchetta joining forces with General Mills and Feeding America for a nationwide effort aimed at fighting hunger, sending more than 50 million meals to local communities across the country.

Most recently, Middle Tennessee State University unveiled the Scott Borchetta College of Media and Entertainment, renaming the world-renowned institution in honor of Borchetta's ongoing commitment to provide state-of-the-art technology and hands-on training to its students.

Borchetta is also a championship-winning race car driver and is highly involved with motorsports. He serves on the board of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Museum and was instrumental in bringing the NTT IndyCar Series to Nashville in 2021 with the Big Machine Music City Grand Prix. He is also the owner of Big Machine Racing and its NASCAR O'Reilly Auto Parts #48 Chevrolet racing team.

His Big Machine Distillery, founded in 2015, blends tradition with innovation and has become a powerhouse in the spirits industry with a diverse lineup of award-winning products, including Borchetta Bourbon, Big Machine Vodka, Spiked Coolers, and Nashville's No. 1 hometown vodka, Pickers Vodka, which it acquired in 2024.

Mace and Chain of Office

Originally a medieval knight's weapon, the mace evolved into a symbol of royal scepters in various crown jewel collections. Large versions of the scepter have come to represent the power and authority of institutions such as our University. The mace measures 50 inches in length and is made of Tennessee cherry wood embellished with sterling silver and lapis lazuli. The Tennessee flower, the iris, denotes the public the University serves who, by their loyalty, give it strength and power. The leaves form a crown to symbolize the ennobling achievements of our graduates. Tennessee freshwater pearls, the official state gem, suggest the inestimable value of inquiring minds. The streamer on the wooden shaft carries the names by which the University has been known since its founding. The finial at the base of the mace is a stylized nut, representing the seed from which springs the mighty tree of those committed to lifelong learning.

The chain of office worn by the president is made of sterling silver. The lapis lazuli gems, mounted on scroll shapes, represent the colleges within the University. The knotted components depict the interdependence of knowledge and the various academic programs of MTSU. The lapis lazuli and sterling represent the University colors of blue and white. The Great Seal of the State of Tennessee embellishes the medallion suspended from the chain, representing the University as part of the Tennessee higher education system.

These unique emblems of authority were designed and crafted by Professor Klaus Kallenberger, formerly of the Department of Art. The mace and chain of office are a generous gift to the University from the MTSU Foundation.

MACE BEARERS

Friday

Dr. Samuel Haruna is an associate professor of Soil Science in the School of Agriculture and associate dean for academic programs in the College of Basic and Applied Sciences. He holds a B.S. in Geology from Kogi State University in Nigeria, an M.S. in Environmental Science from Lincoln University in Missouri, and a Ph.D. in Soil, Environmental and Atmospheric Sciences from the University of Missouri. He began his academic career as a dissertation fellow at MTSU while completing his doctoral studies. Following the completion of his Ph.D., he joined MTSU's School of Agriculture, where he has made a significant impact in both teaching and research.

Haruna has developed and taught a variety of agriculture-related courses, consistently earning student evaluations that exceed both college and University averages. In recognition of his exceptional teaching, he received the 2021–22 CBAS Teaching Excellence Award and has been named by graduating students as a faculty member who made a difference in their lives five times over the past eight semesters. Most recently, Haruna received the John Pleas Faculty Award for his exceptional dedication to teaching, mentorship, and student success.

His research and outreach efforts include grant-funded projects that provide hands-on training and mentorship to MTSU students and local high schoolers in Rutherford County. Over the past four years, these initiatives have resulted in nine student-led conference presentations and nine student-involved, peer-reviewed publications in respected journals. He has also supervised four undergraduate Honors theses during this time.

Haruna is the inaugural mentor/coach of the MTSU Soil Judging Team and co-advisor of the Plant and Soil Science Club. His mentorship has helped students pursue graduate studies and secure employment across Tennessee and beyond.

Saturday morning

Dr. Ashley Valanzola is an assistant professor of History. She holds a B.S. in History from the United States Naval Academy, an M.A. in Diplomacy from Norwich University, and a Ph.D. in History from George Washington University. She spent six years as a surface warfare officer in the Navy, stationed in San Diego and Washington, D.C.

As a historian, Valanzola specializes in modern European history, Holocaust studies, and women's and gender studies. Her book When She Remembered: Seven Women who Transformed French Holocaust Memory will be released by Indiana University Press in June. Her second book project, Afterlife of the Sacred: Holocaust Museums and American Jewish Identity, is under contract with Purdue University Press. This book is co-authored by sociologist Jonathan Zisook. In addition to these book-length projects, Valanzola has published articles in Holocaust and Genocide Studies and Jewish Social Studies.

Since joining the faculty in 2021, Valanzola has taught courses ranging from first-year surveys of European history to upper division and graduate courses in her areas of expertise. She also supervises master's and Ph.D. students in History and Public History and is a member of the graduate and Honors faculty.

In summer 2022, Valanzola received the President's Commission on the Status of Women curriculum integration grant for her general education survey course, Western Civilization I. In fall 2025, she earned the True Blue Core Outstanding Teaching Award for that same course. Valanzola is the co-director of the MTSU Holocaust Studies program, which hosts the biennial Holocaust Studies Conference.

Saturday afternoon

Dr. Gaia Rancati is an assistant professor of Marketing and director of the Neuromarketing and AI Lab. She earned her Ph.D. in Marketing through a joint program between IULM University in Milan, Italy, and Claremont Graduate University. Her research explores the intersection of neuromarketing, artificial intelligence, and service robotics, with a particular focus on technology-mediated retail and service experiences.

She has published in journals such as the Journal of Services Marketing, Computers in Human Behavior, Journal of Consumer Behaviour, Frontiers in Psychology, and Frontiers in Neuroscience. Her work on gender biases in voice assistants earned her the Best Paper Award at the 2024 European Marketing Academy Conference. In addition to her individual research, Rancati is committed to collaborative advancement in the field. In 2023, she co-founded the Affectively Research lab network with several neuromarketing lab directors across the U.S., aiming to build an interdisciplinary research community.

She has also played an active role in shaping the scholarly conversation around biometric and neurophysiological methods in marketing. Rancati organized and led high-impact panels at the 2024 American Marketing Association Summer Conference and the 2025 Academy of Marketing Science (AMS) Annual Conference to promote the integration of neuro tools in consumer research. She will serve as a track chair in neuromarketing and will lead a panel at the 2026 AMS Annual Conference. In parallel, Rancati has secured over $150,000 in competitive research funding and is currently guest editing special issues for the Journal of Consumer Marketing and Frontiers in Neuroscience.

A dedicated educator, she teaches neuromarketing, retailing, and marketing research, and actively supports student scholarship. Many of her mentees have received top research awards.

Her prior leadership roles in luxury retail, including at Louis Vuitton and Max Mara, enrich her academic contributions and make her one of the most fashionable academics in her field.

Academic Regalia

The black gowns and colorful hoods traditionally worn in Middle Tennessee State University Commencement ceremonies have their origins in the Middle Ages.

A statute in England in 1321 required that all “Doctors, Licentiates, and Bachelors” wear gowns. In the second half of the 14th century, the statutes of certain colleges forbade “excess in apparel” and prescribed the wearing of a long gown. Scholars were often clerics, as well, and they adopted costumes similar to those of monastic orders. While the special attire covered rank or social status, thus lending a uniform look to ceremonies, it also served another purpose: warmth in drafty, unheated buildings.

As the universities began to pass from the control of the church, colors often were added to the somber robes and hoods, eventually signifying the degrees and specializations.

The cut of the gown, which is usually black, also varies with the degree held—pointed sleeves for the bachelor’s degree; long, closed sleeves with a slit in the arm for the master’s degree; and round, open sleeves for the doctoral degree. While the bachelor’s and master’s gowns have no ornamentation, the doctoral gown is faced down the front with velvet and has three velvet bars across the sleeves.

At MTSU, hoods are worn by holders of the master’s and doctoral degrees, with the latter being longer. Hoods are lined with the official colors of the universities that conferred the degrees; thus, holders of degrees from MTSU wear hoods lined in blue and white. The velvet edging on the hood, and often the velvet edging on the gown, represents the wearer’s major academic field. Further, the velvet bars on the sleeves may be either black or the same color as the discipline color of the hood. Colors associated with various subjects follow:

- Agriculture - Maize
- Arts, Letters, Humanities - White
- Commerce, Accountancy, Business - Drab
- Criminal Justice - Midnight Blue
- Economics - Copper
- Education - Light Blue
- Fine Arts - Brown
- Home Economics - Maroon
- Journalism - Crimson

- Law - Purple
- Library Science - Lemon
- Music - Pink
- Nursing - Apricot
- Oratory (Speech) - Silver Gray
- Philosophy - Dark Blue
- Physical Education - Sage Green
- Public Health - Salmon
- Science - Gold
- Social Work - Citron

The black cap, either a mortarboard or a tam, is customarily worn. There is no general rule for the position of the tassel. In practice at Middle Tennessee State University, the tassel is worn on the right. It may be shifted to the left after the degree is awarded. Men may remove their caps during the prayer, the playing of the alma mater, and the commencement address.

Undergraduate Latin honor graduates are distinguished by the stoles added to their gowns based upon the inclusive GPA: gold for those graduating summa cum laude, 3.90 to 4.0; silver for magna cum laude, 3.75 to 3.89; and white for cum laude, 3.50 to 3.74.

Graduating from the University Honors College is an additional merit awarded to students who have completed the Honors program, defended a thesis, and have a cumulative grade point average of 3.25 or higher. Graduates of the University Honors College who have completed at least 23 hours with a 3.25 average in the Honors program will receive blue and white cords. Those who have maintained a minimum average of 3.65 in the Honors program are graduating the University Honors College with distinction.

Since 1993, graduates of the University Honors College have received the official Honors medallion in recognition of their final thesis defense and completion of special requirements of the college. The medallion is a replica of the official seal of the University Honors College and depicts a lighted torch, three Ionic columns, and a lightning bolt. Respectively, these symbolize the search for truth and knowledge, the stability and unwavering commitment to pursuing knowledge, and the flash of enlightenment or creative energy.

Some academic colleges, programs, and honor societies may provide cords, ribbons, medallions, or lapel pins designating the achievement and involvement of their members.

Military veteran students are distinguished by specially designed red stoles in recognition of their admirable service to their country.

Experiential Learning Scholars are distinguished by blue, silver, and white cords. These scholars completed EXL-designated hands-on learning courses, an off-campus service activity, an on-campus service activity, and a portfolio of reflections on their EXL activities. The EXL program provides students with opportunities for hands-on experience, valuable networking, and an opportunity to explore career paths through real-world experience.

Engage Scholars are distinguished by royal blue, white, and gold cords. These students completed Engage-designated courses that promote active learning and integrated their learning by reflecting on connections across disciplines and between their academic and cocurricular experiences. Engage students showcased their integrative learning in an ePortfolio that documented their community and campus involvement as well as the academic knowledge and skills they gained during their time at MTSU.

International students may wear colorful sashes that represent their country of origin. Each sash symbolizes, in color and design, their country's flag.

Undergraduate Research students graduating with Distinction are wearing a dark blue, light blue, and white cord. These students graduating with Scholar Distinction are also wearing a medallion to recognize their completion of a research or creative project, its dissemination to the MTSU campus and/or a nationally recognized conference, and their engagement in promoting undergraduate research to the campus.

Most American colleges and universities have adopted a uniform code. However, at any academic gathering, costumes often are worn that are not described by these guidelines. Some of these may be from foreign universities, with others from American institutions that have preferred to remain with the European tradition of allowing each school to determine its own costume. Silver medallions worn by faculty denote 15 years of service, gold medallions represent 25 years, and blue and gold medallions represent 35 or more years of service.

Academic Banners

The banners carried and displayed at Commencement represent the University; its nine colleges (Basic and Applied Sciences, Behavioral and Health Sciences, Business, Education, Liberal Arts, Media and Entertainment, Graduate Studies, University College, and University Honors); Walker Library; and the Faculty Senate. Art Professor Janet Higgins, her student Kristi Baughman, and Darrell Callis Burks, designer in Creative and Visual Services and 2000 B.F.A. graduate, designed and executed the banners. The colors used in each banner represent disciplines within the colleges. The University seal appears in the center of each banner, symbolizing that the whole is greater than any of its parts.

Alma Mater

words and music by Charles Douglas Williams (B.M. '54)

We sing thy prai - ses faith - ful guide of youth;

The first system of musical notation for the song 'Alma Mater'. It consists of a grand staff with a treble clef on the upper staff and a bass clef on the lower staff. The key signature has one flat (B-flat) and the time signature is 4/4. The melody is written in the treble clef, and the piano accompaniment is in the bass clef. The lyrics are: 'We sing thy prai - ses faith - ful guide of youth;'.

Through all the a - ges af - firmed and strong in truth.

The second system of musical notation. The melody continues in the treble clef, and the piano accompaniment continues in the bass clef. The lyrics are: 'Through all the a - ges af - firmed and strong in truth.'.

Al - ma Ma - ter Mid - dle Ten - nes - see

The third system of musical notation. The melody continues in the treble clef, and the piano accompaniment continues in the bass clef. The lyrics are: 'Al - ma Ma - ter Mid - dle Ten - nes - see'.

We proud - ly of - fer our hearts in loy - al - ty.

The fourth and final system of musical notation. The melody concludes in the treble clef, and the piano accompaniment concludes in the bass clef. The lyrics are: 'We proud - ly of - fer our hearts in loy - al - ty.'.
