About Us

Join one of the fastest growing areas of our retirement business! As an Analyst within the National Processing Center in Memphis, Tennessee, you will contribute, as part of a team, to a range of retirement valuation, accounting and special projects. You will have the opportunity to develop a deep knowledge of retirement plans, employ the most cutting-edge tools and resources to complete required projects, and enhance your project management skills.

Internship

The National Processing Center (NPC), part of the Willis Towers Watson Actuarial Service Center (ASC), is a group of colleagues within the North American Retirement Line of Business who focus on operational excellence and systems expertise. As integrated members of client teams in a variety of offices, they provide high quality and efficient work for Defined Benefit, Defined Contribution and post retirement plans served by the Retirement teams. Work performed by NPC colleagues includes annual actuarial funding and accounting valuations, corporate reporting and disclosure government forms and a wide range of special projects. Actuarial credentials are not required for most colleagues in the NPC and, as a result, most NPC colleagues do not participate in the exam program. However, when the business need exists, select NPC colleagues that are pursuing actuarial credentials can participate in the exam program.

Location

Memphis, Tennessee

Contact Information

Allison Logan
akl3h@mtmail.mtsu.edu