

Middle Tennessee State University
School of Nursing

Family Nurse Practitioner (FNP) Certification Results
2015-2019

The Master of Science in Nursing (MSN) degree is the only route of preparation for certification as a Family Nurse Practitioner (FNP) offered by the School of Nursing.

There are two (2) certification agencies for Family Nurse Practitioners. Those include American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC) and American Association of Nurse Practitioners (AANP).

MTSU Combined (ANCC & AANP)

Year	MTSU Combined % (first time pass)
2015	80.5% (62/77 candidates)
2016	73.8% (62/84 candidates)
2017	88% (22/25 candidates)
2018	85.1% (23/27 candidates)
2019	95% (57/60 candidates)

American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC)

Year	MTSU ANCC % (first time pass)	ANCC National Pass Rate
2015	90% (9/10 candidates)	75%
2016	66.7% (12/18 candidates)	Not published
2017	40% (2/5 candidates)	Not published
2018	100% (8/8 candidates)	Not published
2019	93% (13/14 candidates)	Not published

American Association of Nurse Practitioners (AANP)

Year	MTSU AANP % (first time pass)	AANP National Pass Rate
2015	79% (53/67 candidates)	81.4%
2016	75.8% (50/66 candidates)	84%
2017	100% (20/20 candidates)	Not published
2018	79% (15/19 candidates)	Not published
2019	95.7% (44/46 candidates)	Not published

* Year 2020 is ongoing and will be reported during academic year 2021-2022.

Middle Tennessee State University
School of Nursing

Psychiatric Mental Health Nurse Practitioner (PMHNP) Certification Results*
2020

The School of Nursing offers two (2) routes of preparation for certification as a Psychiatric Mental Health Nurse Practitioner (PMHNP). Those routes include the Master of Science in Nursing (MSN) degree and the Post Master’s Certificate.

The American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC) is the only certification agency for Psychiatric Mental Health Nurse Practitioners.

MTSU Combined (MSN degree & Post-Master’s Certificate)

Year	MTSU Combined % (first time pass)
2020
2021
2022
2023
2024

Master of Science in Nursing (MSN) degree

Year	MSN % (first time pass)	National Pass Rate
2020
2021
2022
2023
2024

Post Master’s Certificate (PMC)

Year	PMC % (first time pass)	National Pass Rate
2020
2021
2022
2023
2024

* The Psychiatric Mental Health Nurse Practitioner concentration started in Fall 2020. To date, no students have graduated from this concentration. Any certification results from this concentration will be reported during academic year 2021-2022.