The Marian Clark Scholarship is named for Ms. Marian Lisenbee Clark

Mrs. Clark, of Clarksville, TN, graduated from MTSU. When she passed away in 1995, she left a scholarship fund for students who are planning careers in the social services field. Mrs. Clark is remembered by those who knew her as a bright and capable business woman with a deep concern for education. As a Sociology major, she recognized that sociologists, anthropologists, and social workers applied their knowledge to effectively help both individuals and society. By endowing scholarships, Mrs. Clark felt that people could be trained to help others creating a ripple effect and benefiting many people.

Details of Scholarship

Amount of the scholarships:
The Department of Social Work awards scholarships of varying amounts. The intention of the scholarship is to help pay tuition during field practicum. Each year as many as 20 scholarships are awarded.

Who is eligible to apply:
Those MTSU students in field practicum this summer or the next academic year. All applicants must have a minimum inclusive GPA of 3.0 or 3.5 in the social work major.

Criteria that will determine who will be awarded a Marion Clark Scholarship:
Some combination of the following factors will be used to determine who will be recognized as a Marian Clark Scholar. The three most important factors will be:

a. Commitment to the field of social service.
Social work is a profession designed and dedicated to promote the health and well-being of individuals, families, groups, and communities. For a student to be eligible for the Marian Clark scholarship, they must be a Social Work major (Pre-Social Work not eligible). Applicants must specifically and clearly document their commitment to social work endeavors. Volunteer work, involvement with service organizations, career plans, and employment experience in the social service area are indicators of commitment.

b. Scholarship.
Inclusive GPA as well as grades in courses related to social work and scholastic potential will be indicators of scholarship.

c. Financial need.
Insufficient income, need to terminate employment, or not engaged in employment during studies, and other expenses related to attending college are indicators of need.

d. A person is eligible to be a scholar only during semesters when they are enrolled in field practicum.

Qualities of a Marian Clark Scholar
If you are applying to be a Marian Clark Scholar, then you should indicate in your application statement how you hope to emulate the good work of Marian Clark by helping others. What have you done so far in your life that would reflect that you have the potential to help others? What are you doing academically to prepare yourself to help others?

The Marian Clark Scholarship Committee will evaluate the applications and make recommendations to the Social Work, faculty regarding the awardees.

Application Process
Applications can be obtained from the Department of Social Work. When completed, the applications are returned to the Department of Social Work assistant, Sarah Pruitt, in Peck Hall 134.

Applications must be received by February 27th. The scholarships are granted to full-time students during spring semester for the following academic year. Scholarships are awarded for semesters in which the student is enrolled in a social work internship and taking a minimum of 12 credit hours.

Scholarship winners will be announced at the College of Behavioral and Health Sciences Award Ceremony in April, 2020.
