Proposal	Effective Date	Proposed Action	Detailed Explanation	Reference #
College of Basic and Applied Sciences
Aerospace
AERO - 2220 - Navigation	Summer 2023	Course Discontinuations	No students have completed these courses since 2015.	5
AERO - 3631 - Introduction to Air Traffic Control Lab				6

AERO - 4700 - Advanced UAS Operations and Applications	Summer 2023	New Course	This course will allow learners to gain knowledge and hands-on experience in topics relevant to the UAS industry such as beyond visual line of site (BVLOS) operations, swarming, UAS delivery, open source flight controller advanced features, and advanced flight planning software. NOTE: AERO 4701 must be taken concurrently.	7
AERO - 4701 - Advanced UAS Operations and Applications Lab	Summer 2023	New Course	This experiential learning (EXL) course along with AERO 4701 Advanced UAS Operations Lab will allow learners to gain knowledge and hands-on experience in topics relevant to the UAS industry such as beyond visual line of site (BVLOS) operations, swarming, UAS delivery, open source flight controller advanced features, and third-party flight planning software. Corequisite: AERO 4700.	8
Aerospace, Aviation Management Concentration, B.S.	Summer 2023	Change to curriculum of existing major (including concentrations), minor, or certificate	Currently within the Aviation Management degree, seniors must choose to either go the "airport route" and take Airport Capacity and Planning (AERO 4170) or the "airline route" and take Seminar in Airline Administration (AERO 4140). Both of these classes though have great and needed knowledge students could use when graduating from the program. It would be beneficial for students to take both classes so that they have the knowledge of both and could go either airline or airport once they have graduated. There are two open slots in the management academic map from dropping two transportation classes in Spring of 2022, that would allow both AERO 4140 and 4170 to be moved into required courses.	9

Aerospace, Flight Dispatch Concentration, B.S.	Summer 2023	Change to curriculum of existing major (including concentrations), minor, or certificate	With the elimination of the Air Traffic Control lab, AERO 3631 credit hour 1, this lab needs to be removed. Eliminate the AERO 2220 Navigation option. This is no longer taught and has already been deactivated.	10
Aerospace, Professional Pilot Concentration, B.S.	Summer 2023	Change to curriculum of existing major (including concentrations), minor, or certificate	These course have been discontinued, so we propose to remove these as an option for AERO electives: AERO 2220 (Navigation); AERO 3206 (Advanced Conventional Landing Gear Flight Laboratory); AERO 3631 - Introduction to Air Traffic Control Lab; and AERO 4220 - Advanced Certified Flight Instructor Fundamentals. Other options for AERO electives are available, including AERO 3080, AERO 4130, and several optional flight labs.	11

The following course are removed and/or added to the major requirements: Remove AERO 2230 - content is covered in AERO 2710; AERO 3230 - content is covered in AERO 2710 and AERO 3710; AERO 3440 - course requires a prereq of MATH 1810. No longer required under this proposal. Aerodynamics fundamentals covered throughout the UAS Operations program. Add AERO 4700 (new course) and AERO 4701 – (new course) Provides students with experiential experience with the topics listed above.	12

There is only one different course between the 6-12 General and 6-12 Literacy specializations. The only difference between 6-12 General and 6-12 Math is the addition of two ELED math courses. The SPED Program Committee feels these minimal differences are not necessary in the preparation of candidates for licensure in 6-12 Intervention, and that schools are not actively seeking teachers with such highly specialized credentials. There are currently no active MTSU students enrolled in either the 6-12 Literacy or 6-12 Math programs.	127

Music

MUS - 4570 - The Body Intelligent: A Study of the Alexander Technique	Summer 2023	Course Discontinuation	The School of Music does not have the specialized faculty to teach this course, nor have there been students enrolled in this MUS section of the course in numbers that warrant its inclusion in our School of Music course offerings.	99
MUAP - 2514 - Private Instruction-Tuba	Summer 2023	Course repeats	B.M. students are required to enroll in a minimum of four semesters of lower division applied music lessons. In order to better accommodate the needs of students at various places in their degree plans, it makes more sense to use a repeat hour limit as opposed to a specific number of class repeats.	86
MUAP -4514 - Private Instruction-Tuba	Summer 2023	Course repeats	B.M. students are required to enroll in a minimum of 3 to 4 semesters of upper division applied music lessons. In order to better accommodate the needs of students at various places in their degree plans, it makes more sense to use a repeat hour limit as opposed to a specific number of class repeats.	87
MUEN - 3250 -Opera Theater	Summer 2023	Course repeats Contact hours	In order to learn and polish repertoire throughout the semester at a level that is in keeping with the standards of the School of Music, it is necessary to increase the contact hours of this course from 3 to 4. Doing so will also align with current meeting patterns. Because it is not uncommon for vocal majors to take an extra year to finish their degree, changing the repeats from 8 to 10 will allow those students to take this course each semester they are enrolled if they choose to do so.	90

MUEN - 3270 - Musical Theatre Production	Summer 2023	New Course	Production of a fully-staged musical work. Will be dual listed with MUEN 5270.	91
MUEN - 3770 - MTSU Chamber Orchestra	Summer 2023	New Course	Preparation and public performance of music literature appropriate for chamber orchestra (primarily strings).	96

PS - 3430 - Comparative Public Policy	Summer 2023	New Course	This course explores the politics of policymaking. We take a comparative perspective and examine the factors influencing public policies. Why do countries have different policies? How do domestic factors shape these policies? And how do international factors influence these policies? We investigate these questions by looking at the role of institutions, interests, and ideas in policymaking.	108
---------------------------------------	-------------	------------	---	------------

PS - 3450 - The Politics of Social Welfare Policy	Summer 2023	New Course	This course provides an overview of the structure and functions of welfare states in the rich, industrialized democracies (primarily European), and covers key arguments and debates about the emergence and contemporary fate of these welfare states. The approach is broadly comparative, but throughout the course discussions will often emphasize drawing ideas from the experiences of other countries to inform policy solutions to problems we confront in the US.	109
PS - 4260 - Women and Public Policy	Summer 2023	Course Title Change Course Content Change	The new title (Women & Public Policy) and description better aligns with how the course is taught. We examine all of the issues in the current course description, but with an emphasis on how public policy plays a role in creating and addressing those issues.	111
PS - 4300 - Policymaking in the European Union	Summer 2023	Course Title Change Course Content Change	At present, 4300 is rarely offered and doesn't have high enrollments when it is offered. While we don't envision teaching this annually, when we do teach it, the new focus & material (attached) will make it beneficial for both our International Relations students and our Public Policy & Management students. This change is part of our larger package of PPM curriculum changes.	112
